Beyond the Binder: Modern Records for Today's Clubs

Ready to move from overstuffed binders and scattered spreadsheets to simpler, more organized systems? Check out this Zoom Connect.

Find guidance on the recordkeeping essentials every club needs, easy ways to encourage volunteers without overwhelming them, and practical ideas for connecting with members.

Specific topics covered include:

- The important of keeping good records
- How to design a simple process that allows flexibility for the leaders you have
- Items your club needs to keep
- Options for where to store items
- Tips for transitioning to a different system of recordkeeping

Some quick tips when it comes to recordkeeping:

- "Having a consistent process is more important than a perfect process."
- "Consider what works for your group allowing change when necessary."
- "Remember the point of a club is to develop community; it's not to do the job of recordkeeping."

Email finance@multiplesofamerica.org for documents about the:

- Records each club should have (and how long to keep each item)
- How to set up an online repository, and
- Discounts on some recordkeeping services available to clubs who are part of the Multiples of America group exemption
